Reference report for Graduate Women International

Fiji National University (FNU) is proud to partner with Graduate Women International (GWI), and the Fiji Association of Graduate Women, to host the seminar Education in the Pacific: Bridging the Gender Gap on 29 October 2015, at FNU.

This seminar provides an important opportunity to bring together high level speakers and stakeholders to discuss how to further gender equality through education.

The seminar will bring important attention to the issue of gender equality in education and provide a valuable opportunity for networking and consolidation of different perspective from the region.

We strongly support GWI and FAWG and their mission to empower girls and women through lifelong education up to the highest levels.
