Pro Vice Chancellor (Research) Prof. Mohini Singh's Message

Academic libraries are physical expressions of knowledge supporting research and the practice of scholarship at Universities. Our library at FNU enables dedicated work spaces for our researchers, access to high quality content, training to use electronic databases for digital content, access to a wide variety of software for data collection, analysis and for managing citations. For information that is not available in-house, through sharing services our library engages in inter-library loans to source information from other libraries to support our research.

As researchers we can exploit our library services to articulate the background information required for writing high quality funding applications increasing our success rate in winning research income. The library is creating for us a research repository to store and make available our research papers and thesis. The research repository promotes visibility of our outputs raising our research profile. (Continued on page 2...)

Taylor & Francis Training

Ms. Kim Brooking and Mr. James Hudson were in FNU on the 28th of March 2019 for a information and training session with all faculty and students. Live session was conducted in LT 01 in Nasinu and was also broadcasted to Natabua Library Conference Room.

Pro Vice Chancellor- Research Message

Our library at FNU has compiled a collection of software to support research. These include EndNote and RefWorks for the management of citations; Qualtrics for online surveys; SPSS for quantitative data analysis; and NVivo to support Interpretive Research. It provides access to digital databases of EBSCO, SSRN, ProQuest Central, IOP Science, IEEE Xplore digital library and many more. Our library has state of the art facilities and we can very confidently depend on it to support our research.

Journey of Team Wild West & IQCC Award Wining Celebration

The Western Libraries participated in the Internal Quality Circle Competition in 2018 for the first time and won Gold as well as the Best Facilitator Award. The team celebrated their victory on 28th March 2019. The chief guest of the ceremony Professor James Pounder, PVC-L&T commended that the name chosen for the team was befitting as any team is defined by their name and Team Wild West has proved it. He emphasized that IQCC competition is not only about winning but to see the quality standard identified by the quality circles is effectively implemented and getting positive feedback. The team's success was based on team spirit, encouragement and empowerment by the team facilitator (Dr. Tanveer Naqvi). The Team Leader (Ms. Mousmin Lata) stated that the team facilitator supported throughout the journey of IQCC and National Convention on Quality competition which added to the victory of the team. Indeed, it was a wonderful and memorable journey of Team Wild West from inception till the celebration of the champions. PVC L&T and Prof. Eileen Honan also inaugurated new digital learning space for Post-Graduate and PhD Students at FNU Natabua Campus.
