Feedback received during COVID 19

The library continues to share the feedback received from the users while away from the campuses.

Mr. Veni Cakau

Lecturer at the School of Public Health & Primary Care: stated that flexible and friendly service is the inspiration of the Library when dealing with their users from home. The Information literacy training provided by the library has helped me to use many databases offered by the University in finding resources from the wide range of health and science related topics especially areas that focus from clinical, public and community health research articles. The library continued to offer critical services which was very important to me during this lockdown period as it helped me through my lecture contents and maintain a balanced framework. It affirms my lecture contents ensuring proven research with evidence. Thank you for the support.

enhanced students to interact virtually and come up with questions which we were not aware of and were provided with the best solutions. Even when the contemporary going gets tough, students were provided with good guidance and keeping time management in mind.

Aashir Azim

(2020003990) enrolled in Bachelor of Commerce: Management/IS at Namaka Campus: I would like to take this opportunity to thank the library for assisting students by arranging for the IL session on OPAC, RefWorks, and E-Resources which proves to be very informative and helpful in these trying times. My suggestion for improvement is that there should be more awareness on the services provided by the library, as I am a 2020 student and only this year it came to my knowledge that FNU has subscribed websites for E-Resources for students to access and help them achieve excellence.

Aachal Archana Nair

(2021003176) enrolled in Bachelor of Education Secondary Accounting/Economics at Natabua Campus: With the current COVID-19 crisis, having such a good online library session demonstrates self-motivation and adds flexibility to our studies. The online library class was very informative indeed and highly beneficial for students to effectively participate in our schoolwork, which is also an essential source guiding students to accurately complete the assignments on a timely basis. Promotes better elimination of plagiarism by the guidance of acknowledging on Turnitin. As well as assist students on how to do referencing as required by the lecturers. I had a truly good time attending this useful online library session. It was indeed an effective and efficient perspective mode of learning, while sitting from home. Friendly communicating skills which also

Rihasna Reha Prasad

(2021001869): I would want to thank you during the current week, careful and well-organized training. The outline learning FNU referencing techniques regarding how as an understudy we can get to those facilities was extremely fascinating to learn and discussion were completely inspiring. I have especially partaken in the visual delineation, which made substance effectively justifiable. If it's not too much trouble, thanks for sake, every individual who was associated with the preparation and the execution of the training. You all have a great job. I anticipated to attend a group zoom session to future trainings offered the opportunity.

Shayel Prakash

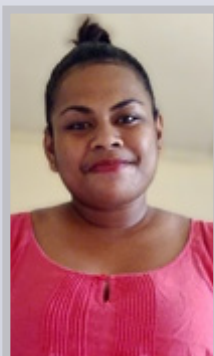

(2021001022) enrolled in Bachelor Of Commerce in Management and Information System at Namaka campus: I would like to express my appreciation regarding recent class that we attended last week. You have really empowered us in terms of referencing, using of library and how to go along process, various details of the said services provided by FNU library. We really enjoyed our session with you madam and hopefully all the rest of the colleague's also taken this opportunity to gear up with the knowledge imparted by you. Once again, I would like to thank you and in near future take hid of the said teachings as mentioned by you in your said training session and became best users of the library.

Nishat Zabeen Nisha

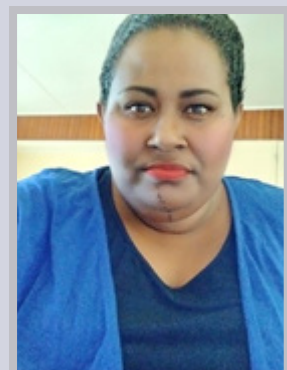

I am Nishat Zabeen Nisha , first year primary education student at FNU Labasa campus. The zoom class was very helpful and glad to learn a lot. Thank you very much.

Mariana Vuki

first year doing BED in Primary from Section 104. This zoom session is very effective and very helpful to me personally. I always having problem when it comes to referencing after attending to this session, I find it easier on how references work while using RefWorks. Thank you very much mam for your time and I'm looking forward for another session with you.

Miriama Kadavu Kotobalavu

(2 0 1 1 0 0 0 8 3 8) enrolled in Bachelor of Education in Secondary at Natabua Campus: Thank you for today's session on E Library. It is the first time for me to go through this very important training as we are facing a very difficult situation. First, I was able to know that there is an online library that we can access as a student. I was able to know how to search for information using the search domain. I will go through the program myself to get myself acquainted with it. Very interesting and I wish that a lot of students would have attended Thank you for your time and effort in providing us with this very important information.
