

New Arrivals August 2020

1	Toward Creation of New World History 	Author: Haneda Masashi Description: The author has been exploring for several years now how best to create a new world history. The world history that we learn and understand today is already out of step with the times. Therefore, it is imperative to envisage a new world history that is suitable to our own time. What description of history, then, is appropriate for our contemporary times? To answer this question, the author first reviews what kind of perception we have of world history and what is wrong with it. Subsequently, he looks into what is the new world history that is called for and how it can be created. Location- Namaka [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CHE
2	Bushido and the Art of Living: An Inquiry into Samurai Values 	Author: Alexander Bennett Description: What is Bushido? What is Budo? How are the culture and traditions of the samurai connected with the modern martial arts? Is the ancient wisdom of Japan's feudal warriors truly relevant in the twenty-first century? If so, how can it be accessed? This book addresses these questions, and is a must read not only for martial artists, but also for those who want to know more about the enigmatic Japanese mind and notions of self-identity. Location- Namaka [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CHE

3	Friendship Across the Seas: The US Navy and the Japan Maritime Self-Defense Force 	Author: Agawa Naoyuki Description: This book describes the history of the relationship between the Japan Maritime Self-Defense Force (JMSDF), the heir to the Imperial Japanese Navy (IJN), and the United States Navy (US Navy). Close to seventy years of accumulated shared experiences have transformed an initially timid and unbalanced relationship into one of, if not the, most successful navy-to-navy partnership in the world. The maritime alliance between Japan and the United States today is anchored in this history. Numerous admirals, officers, and sailors of the two navies working together have greatly contributed to the stability and prosperity of the Asia/Pacific region for the past seventy years. They are not Nimitz's or Yamamotos, but are nevertheless heroes who toiled hard to bring about this unique friendship across the seas. Location- Namaka [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CHE
4	Perspectives on Sino-Japanese Diplomatic Relations 	Author: The Yomiuri Shimbun Political News Department & John Rossman Description: In East Asia, the growth center of the post-Cold War world, two regional powerhouses survey one another from opposite sides of the Japan Sea. China, a rising power with tremendous economic clout and an increasingly assertive foreign and military policy, and Japan, a respected leader in the region and a mature nation enjoying its greatest political stability in many years, must coexist for the peace and prosperity of East Asia and the Asia-Pacific. Location- Namaka [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CHE

5	The Entrepreneur Who Built Modern Japan: Shibusawa Eiichi 	Author: Shimada Masakazu, Shibusawa Eiichi Description: "In this penetrating biography of Shibusawa Eiichi (1840-1931), one of Japan's foremost entrepreneurs, Shimada Masakazu traces Shibusawa's youth, when he witnessed the decay of Japan's feudal society and experienced the benefits of modernization at first hand in Europe; his service in the Ministry of Finance of the new Meiji government in its early years; and his venture into business and involvement in literally hundreds of companies as he set about building the roots of modern corporate Japan. Shimada also looks closely at Shibusawa's social activities and his insistence that economics and morals are inseparable. In troubled times like the present, when the limits of capitalism are being seen around the world, Shibusawa's vision is as relevant as ever. Location- Namaka [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CHE
6	Landscape Gardener Ogawa Jihei and His Times A Profile of Modern Japan 	Author: Suzuki Hiroyuki, H. (Ed) Larrabee Description: Securing the generous support of the politicians and industrialists who propelled Japan's modernization, Ogawa Jihei VII created many outstanding gardens at the end of the nineteenth and the first few decades of the twentieth century. Expressing a Japanese aesthetic even while incorporating modern techniques, his methodology reveals the nature of modernization as Japan experienced it. With a keen eye for architecture, the author takes a long-awaited look at modernization and the modern garden. Location- Namaka [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CHE

7	Understanding History in Asia What Diplomatic Documents Reveal 	Author: Hattori Ryuji Description: The twentieth century has been called a century of war. Wars and colonization leave deep chasms between countries. In the case of Japan, these frictions have manifested themselves as historical issues. The history since World War II has also been a history of trying to overcome the hostility surrounding these issues. Since the end of the war there have been various attempts at reconciliation, and indeed, periods in which Japan has enjoyed good relations with China and also with South Korea. Despite that, historical issues have overheated in the twenty-first century, and their effects may extend beyond Japan's relations with China and South Korea to impact its relations with the United States, Southeast Asia, and Europe. Location- Namaka [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CHE
8	Japan's Wooden Heritage 	Author: Terunobu Fujimori, Mitsumasa Fujitsuka, Hart Larrabee Description: Brings together essays by architectural historian Terunobu Fujimori and photographs by Mitsumasa Fujitsuka, and commentary by structural engineer Mikio Koshihara that originally appeared in Kateigah, Japan's premier magazine of art and culture, supplemented with additional essays by Mitsumasa Fujitsuka. What distinguishes this volume is its selection of 23 locations--including well-known temples and shrines but also lesser-known structures--to represent a broad scope of architectural styles, functions, and time periods; the outstanding photographs; and the distinct approaches taken by each of the three essayists. Location- Namaka [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CHE

9	The History of US-Japan Relations: From Perry to the Present 	Editor: Makoto Iokibe, Tosh Minohara Description: Examining the 160-year relationship between America and Japan, this cutting edge collection considers the evolution of the relationship of these two nations which straddle the Pacific, from the first encounters in the 19th century to major international shifts in a post 9/11 world. It examines the emergence of Japan in the wake of the 1905 Russo-Japanese War and the development of U.S. policies toward East Asia at the turn of the century. It goes on to study the impact of World War One in Asia, the Washington Treaty System, the issue of Immigration Issue and the deterioration of US-Japan relations in the 1930s as Japan invaded Manchuria. It also reflects on the Pacific War and the Occupation of Japan, and the country's postwar Resurgence, democratization and economic recovery, as well as the maturing and the challenges facing the US Japan relationship as it progresses into the 21st century. Location- Namaka [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CHE
10	Words to Live by 	Author: Nakano Koji Description: The writers under his lens span seven centuries, ranging from the twelfth century to the nineteenth. Three are poets; three wrote timeless prose. The hermit-monk Ryōkan, a poet who loved nothing more than bouncing balls with neighborhood children or just sitting sprawled in his hut listening to the sound of rain, teaches the value of living with a spirit of play. Kenkō offers trenchant comments on the aesthetics of life, grounded in an appreciation of the immediacy of death. Kamo no Chōmei, a journalist par excellence, found happiness late in life by flouting convention and rejoicing in the absence of grief. Location- Namaka [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CHE
11	Toward the Abe Statement on the 70th Anniversary	Author: Tara Cannon Description: In 1955 and 2005, Japan's prime ministers released landmark statements to mark the	CHE

	of the End of World War II: Lessons from the 20th Century and a Vision for the 21st Century for Japan 	50th and 60th anniversaries of the end of World War II. Many around Asia and the world were focused on what sort of statement Prime Minister Abe Shinzo would release. The media was filled with speculation about whether his statement would uphold previous prime ministers' statements and include words such as "aggression," "colonial rule," or "apology." It was in this context that Prime Minister Abe himself commissioned a panel of Japan's foremost experts to look back on the 20th century and the path Japan followed before and after the war, and look ahead to the role Japan should play in the 21st century. This book brings together the presentations and commentary by the panel members as they explore Japan in the 20th century. Location- Namaka [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here
12	What Is Japanese Cinema?: A History 	Author: Inuhiko Yomota Description: What might Godzilla and Kurosawa have in common? What, if anything, links Ozu's sparse portraits of domestic life and the colorful worlds of anime? In this book, Yomota Inuhiko provides a concise history of Japanese film that shows how cinema tells the story of Japan's modern age. Discussing popular works alongside auteurist masterpieces, Inuhiko considers films in light of both Japanese cultural particularities and cinema as a worldwide art form. Location- Namaka [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CHE
13	Soetsu Yanagi: Selected Essays on Japanese Folk Crafts	Author: Sogetsu Yanagi Description: The common utilitarian objects depicted in this book were considered aesthetically insignificant until the appearance of Soetsu Yanagi. It was Yanagi who discovered the beauty that could only be produced by simple, humble craftsmen repeatedly and unselfconsciously working on the same objects day after day. From this quotidian world emerged a distinctive beauty - wholesome, free, and devoid of self-awareness. To bring these crafts to the notice of	CHE

		the world, Yanagi established the Japan Folk Crafts Museum in 1936, from whose collection the objects illustrated herein have been chosen for inclusion by the publisher. In the essays, Yanagi expounds his philosophy of folk crafts and highlights particular pieces. Altogether, the book constitutes a penetrating insight into the world of Japanese handicrafts. Location- Namaka [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here
14	The Book of Urushi Japanese Lacquerware from a Master 	Author: Matsuda Gonroku, Kazumi Murose Description: Urushi, Japanese lacquerware, is perhaps the oldest and most sublime of all the Japanese arts and crafts. It is practiced by craftsmen working in time-honored techniques and by modern artists forging the future. Valued for its utilitarian durability, urushi developed into an incomparable art, adorning a multitude of objects from luxurious palaces to lavish murals and exquisitely crafted fountain pens. The present book, written more than fifty years ago by the Living National Treasure Matsuda Gonroku, has long been a must-read for collectors, researchers, and laypeople. It is the "bible" of urushi, covering every conceivable aspect of the subject. Location- Namaka [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CHE
15	The Political History of Modern Japan 	Author: Kitaoka Shinichi Description: Covering the major events, actors and institutions of Japan's modern history, the key themes discussed include: Building the Meiji state and Constitution, the establishment of Parliament, The First Sino-Japanese and Russo-Japanese wars, Party Politics and International Cooperation, The Pacific War, Development of LDP politics and changes in the international order and the end of the Cold War. Location- Namaka [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CHE

16	Patient's Trust in Doctors and Percieved Quality of Health Care Services in Suva Sub-Divisional Health Care Services in Suva Sub-Divisional Health Centres, Fiji-A Mixed Method Study 	Author: Swastika Salveena Chandra Description: Trust and effective communication are a prerequisite for a healthy doctor-patient relationship. The study in this thesis employed a cross-sectional design using concurrent mixed quantitative and qualitative research methods. Effective with trust communication are radical components of a doctor – patient relationship and is crucial for a patient-oriented care, proper and better patient management and better outcomes. Location- Pasifika [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CMNHS
17	Knowledge, Attitude and Practice (KAP) towards physical activity (PA) amongst academic staff of College of Medicine, Nursing and Health Sciences (CMNHS) at Fiji National University (FNU) in 2019	Author: Avendra Kumar Prakash Description: Physical activity (PA) has emerged as vital area of public health. Regular PA is one of the most important practices that a person can do to stay healthy. Physical inactivity has been identified as the fourth leading risk factor for global mortality. The academic staffs of CMNHS had moderate (medium) level of knowledge but they had a high level of attitude and good practice towards PA. Age was the only predictor of overall practice score. As such these findings can be helpful to the senior managers or decision maker's to increase opportunities towards promoting. Location- Pasifika [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CMNHS

18	Knowledge, Attitude and Practice of Mothers Breastfeeding Children Under 6 Months of Age in Suva in 2018 	Author: Maca Temoirokomalani Description: Breastfeeding has health benefits for infant’s survival, growth and development and the wellbeing of the mother. Good (KAP)of mothers on breastfeeding will result in increased rates of exclusive breastfeeding for the first six months of age for infants. The findings of this KAP study had provided necessary baseline information and evidence for prioritizing key activity intervention in health facilities providing maternity and newborn services. More advocacy and communication on breastfeeding is needed to bring about sustainable behavioral change of mothers towards breastfeeding. Location- Pasifika [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CMNHS
19	Knowledge, Attitude and Practice Towards Family Planning Among Pregnant Women and Perception of male partners and medical staffs in Ba, Fiji in 2019 : A mixed method study	Author: Mohammed Imtishal Description: Globally ,214 million women of reproductive age in developing countries are not using contraceptive and in the developing countries almost 1 ion 5 women use modern contraceptive methods. The review of the literature shows that there is an association between parity and knowledge and age, marital status with practice. Moreover, there need to be more awareness on male sterilization and more involvement of men in FP services. Location- Pasifika [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CMNHS

20	Knowledge, Attitudes and Practice (KAP) towards physical activity among health care professions in Suva, Fiji, 2017 	Author: Keresi Rokorua Bako Description: Health care professionals (HCPs) are key players in improving access to and providing quality health care for the population. HCPs provide services such as promoting health, disease prevention and delivering health care services to all persons in a community based on the primary health care approach. HCPs have a positive attitude towards PA and are very aware of the importance of PA for quality of life and well-being and they knew that participation in PA will help to look better, improve good posture and relief from different stressors of life. The study shows that to encourage PA it is imperative to include activities of interest to the focused population. Location- Pasifika [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CMNHS
21	Knowledge, attitude and practice of Type 2 diabetic patients (T2DM) with chronic kidney disease (CKD) at Sigatoka hospital in 2018	Author: Mohammed Alvis Zibrán Description: Type 2 Diabetes Mellitus is one of the 4 major Non-communicable that is contributing to NCD crisis globally while Chronic Kidney Disease. Consequently, having adequate KAP about these 2 diseases can eventually lead to substantial reduction in the burden of disease attributed to T2DM and CKD. Rather than generalizing health campaigns well targeted, evidence-based health approach can greatly benefit the population with low KAP as they are the ones who need the interventions. Location- Pasifika [1 copy]	CMNHS

		OPAC Link: Click Here
22	The perception of undergraduate dental students towards various learning environments in the College of Medicine, Nursing and Health Science : Fiji National University 	Author: Ashneeta Prasad Ali Description: The intention of this study was to examine the strength and weakness in the educational climate according to the perception of undergraduate dental students. From this study it can be noted that student had more positive response to research opportunities, learning about sufficient clinical skill, mutual respect among students and teachers, material and equipment in the clinic, chosen teachers, freely asking questions and having clinical seminars. Location- Pasifika [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CMNHS

23	Susceptibility of Escherichia coli (E.coli) and other uropathogens in Urine samples at MIOT Pacific Hospitals Pathology Department from the year 2012-2016 	Author: Rajneel Singh Description: Escherichia coli are a facultative Gram negative bacillus. Strains that cause disease outside of gastrointestinal tract are referred to as extra intestinal pathogenic E. coli (ExPEC) and are further divided into uropathogenic E. coli (UPEC), strains causing neonatal meningitis and septicemia. Thus this study will provide information in relation to E. coli susceptibility pattern seen in urine samples. It's very vital for clinician in order to facilitate empiric treatment of patients and management of patients with symptoms of urinary tract infections and formulate antibiotic policies for prescription. Location- Pasifika [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CMNHS
24	Investigation of intentional homicides in Fiji from 2010 to 2017 : a mixed method study 	Author: James John Vula Pickering Kalougivaki Description: The aim of this study was to determine the factors associated with intentional homicides in Fiji to evaluate and examine intentional homicides in Fiji. Despite the presence of improve state homicide interventions, there are still gaps existing between the knowledge from research and the current practice of the management of intentional killing in Fiji. Other factors also related to the incidence of intentional homicides in Fiji were poor police public awareness; occasional minimum standard police death investigation due to obvious lack of resources; the low rates of training and exposure for police criminal death investigation; general drawbacks of policing in Fiji. Location- Pasifika [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CMNHS

25	The descriptive epidemiology of teenage pregnancy in Vaiola hospital, Nukualofa, Tonga from 2011-2015 	Author: Ana Vakauta Description: Teenage pregnancies have continued to be a public health problem in Tonga because of the high number of cases each year. Teenage pregnancy brings health risk to both mother and child, social problems, financial problems and even psychological problems. Teenage pregnancy does increase the risk of adverse birth outcomes that is independent of importantly known confounders. from the result of this study, health interventions and are should put more focus into addressing these two outcomes through relevant counselling, education and supplementations. Location- Pasifika [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CMNHS
26	Barriers to accessing quality health care for diabetes patients at the Suva Diabetes centre : a multi- method study 	Author: Josua Naua Ligairi. Description: Fiji NCD statistics are providing unfavorable results that despite the development of evidence-based clinical practice guidelines for glycemic, cholesterol and weight control, more than half of diabetic patients are still not reaching their recommended control goals. This study identified barriers to quality diabetes care among patients, caregivers and health care workers. Barriers identified by patients included health care financing, social support mechanisms, health education and literacy, patient's identity, language belief system and attitude of health care workers. Location- TCL [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CMNHS

27	Determinants of fruits and vegetables consumption in children aged 6 months to 5 years old in the Nuffield Medical area Suva, Fiji : a qualitative study 	Author: Salanieta Mususdole CoregaHAWEA. Description: The findings of this study have provided empirical evidence on how consumption of fruits and vegetables in children can be improved to meet recommended intake in Fiji. Such evidence should be used to inform and improve future policy decision and intervention program in the Fiji. Also future research studies to capture knowledge, attitude of caregivers and whether it is translated to practices is suggested. It would also be ideal to conduct a wider study with more representative samples. Location- Pasfika [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CMNHS
28	Relationships between dietary patterns and depression among adolescents in Tonga 	Author: Nola Mahe- Vanualailai Description: The study supports the cross-sectional and longitudinal relationship between diet and mental health among adolescents in low income countries. There are lot of factors that contribute to the onset for depression, including environmental, genetics and psychological factors, causing the etiology of depression challenging to study. Location- Pasifika [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CMNHS

29	Knowledge, attitude and practice (KAP) study for mothers of malnourished children under 5 years old on South Tarawa, Kiribati in 2015 	Author: Antje Reiher Description: Malnutrition remains a major problem not only in developing countries but worldwide affecting mostly children under 5 years old. The finding showed that mothers had a low level of knowledge with a medium level of attitude and practice towards breastfeeding, complimentary feeding, dietary practice and immunization. The cultural related issues mostly had an impact on dietary, as they are not prioritizing children's feeding as important due to men and old people benefitting more from special food. Location- Pasifika [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CMNHS
30	A cross-sectional study of Knowledge, attitude and practice towards Hepatitis B among pregnant women attending antenatal clinics in Honiara, Solomon Islands 	Author: Nixon Panda Description: This study investigates the level of KAP of pregnant women attending antenatal clinics (ANCs) in the capital city (Honiara) in Solomon Islands as evidence for effective HBV awareness raising and advocacy. The current study shows they had low level of KAP towards HBV with lack of understanding of the basics of infection control and the prevention of transmission of HBV. Extensive health awareness and effective advocacy model for behavior change should be delivered to pregnant women attending ANCs and high risk group via all health facilities and print media in the urban settings. Location- Pasifika [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CMNHS

31	Knowledge, attitude and practice regarding HIV and AIDS among students of the college of humanities and education, Lautoka campus of the Fiji national Univeristy in 2019 	Author: Robert Philip Description: HIV and AIDS remain one of the global health issues affecting individuals all across the world and is a major problem in developing countries. Even though most of students had better knowledge of condom use as preventive measure and sexual intercourse as a transmission mode their practices showed risk-taking behavior. There is a need to establish appropriate preventive measure to spread accurate knowledge of the factors causing HIV and convey positive attitude and safe practices among the risk population groups such as young people. Location- TCL [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CMNHS
32	Research Title : a descriptive study on the contribution of diet and physical activity to childhood obesity in Tuvalu	Author: Julie Elisala Description: Obesity is abnormal or excessive fat accumulation that presents a risk to health. Factors contributing to causing obesity are multifaceted and complex. Diet refers to the type of food that one consumes. To address this complex problem a whole of government and community response to this obesity epidemic is required to mitigate the impact of NCD on children’s health earlier in life. This research has further demonstrated that the barriers identified by parents and teachers can be resolved through diet and PA interventions at home and in schools. Location- Namaka [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CMNHS

33	Healthcare-associated infections at the colonial war memorial hospital, 2018-2019 : a mixed method study 	Author: Jane Matanaicake- Lum On Description: Healthcare-associated infections (HCAIs) is defined as any infection that is not present or incubating at the time of admission within a patient that is receiving healthcare within a hospital or healthcare facility after 48 hours of admission. As the first study in Fiji to describe the distribution of HCAI at CWMH for a two-year period it and to determine the prevalence rate it was seen that HCAI cases were more commonly seen in those less than 35 years of age, majority were females and mostly I-Taukei ethnic group was affected. Location- TCL [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here	CMNHS
34	Factors affecting drug non-compliance among cardiac patients at Sigatoka sub-divisional hospital : a qualitative study	Author: Avnit Avnil Kumar Description: Non-compliance to prescribed medications leads to disease progression which often leads to premature deaths. Non-compliance to medications often leads to worsening symptoms of cardiac conditions and hospitalization. Non-adherence to medication in cardiac patients contributes to a substantial burden on the healthcare system. For patient related factors awareness in SOPD clinics can be done for patients to realize the effects of noncompliance ways to improve compliance.	CMNHS

		Location- TCL [1 copy] OPAC Link: Click Here
--	---	--	--