Welcome address by the University Librarian, Dr. Udaya C. Shukla

Bula and welcome to the Fiji National University Library, where you'll find smart spaces for everything you need to learn. We hope you all had a wonderful holiday season and are enjoying the start of 2023. Thus, FNU Library is ready to welcome all new students who will be joining us in 2023 as well as all continuing students back onto our campuses and centers to receive quality and accessible learning, teaching, and research support.

Libraries at FNU serve as hubs for community connections to services including broadband, computers, classes, and programs, as well as to books, movies, and other media. But most importantly, libraries connect us to each other.

The FNU Library offers a blended service that is essential for engaging, high-quality learning and discovery. We provide ongoing improvised virtual and physical learning, teaching, and research access to support both in-person and digital formats. You can access many of our resources digitally, and our libraries are open for in-person visits.

Why visit your library?

Nowadays, where information could be gathered from all over the galaxy, there is still only one place for accurate information. Many of the pieces of information and data we receive are not always accurate or relevant. The library is your one-stop shop for free educational resources, news, historical resources, and much more. All you must do is go there and learn everything for free.

Whether you're visiting in person or virtually, libraries offer the opportunity to connect with new worlds through access to technology, multimedia content, and educational programs. Take time to connect with your library throughout your life.

By providing free access to educational, news, and historical resources, libraries help keep the public informed with facts, rather than confused with fiction. FNU Libraries act as a hub of information, and their leaders, the librarians, are torch bearers for facts.

Did you know FNU has 16 libraries across Fiji?

The importance of FNU libraries in supporting and promoting teaching, learning, and research has never been greater. FNU libraries have emphasized the learning environment and students' experiences. While students expect more from the university, the library is the medium of interaction for keeping students' satisfaction high and has built its strength to support higher education.

The FNU Open Day event took place on October 20th and 21st, 2022 at the Nasinu, Natabua, and Naduna campuses. There were a total of 121 secondary schools (on mainland Viti Levu and Vanua Levu), 4 vocational institutes,

3 special schools, 13 professional bodies, 8 village communities, and 4 youth groups (in addition to the public) who attended the two-day event. The library staff presented the library's resources and services during the two-day event through PowerPoint presentations, displays, and a selfie booth, which was the most exciting activity for secondary school students. During the activities, students were asked quiz questions, and giveaways were awarded to the winners. Despite the rainy weather in Central, visitors from schools and the public were upbeat. The FNU Open Day for the Library and all visitors was a day of marketing and fun!

Awareness Programme

FNU Library continued raising awareness through book displays and presentations for important events such as Sustainability Day on October 18, Pink October, World

Mental Health Day on October 31, and prostate cancer in collaboration with the colleges to create awareness for the students and staff

Corporate Social Responsibility: FNU Contributes to The Lawaki Community Library

Libraries engage people to knowledge and people to people, and the Fiji National University (FNU) actively works with communities to strengthen dialogue and collaboration with community groups and leaders. The library offers welcoming settings where everyone can feel at home, including children, people of all ages, socioeconomic backgrounds, races, and physical abilities.

Workshop at the Lawaki Community Library in Korotari, Labasa

Staff from the library traveled to Labasa, on behalf of the Office of Learning and Teaching (OLT), to deliver the books and lead a workshop for the Lawaki community. On Friday, November 25, there was a flurry of activity when our university librarian, on behalf of the Fiji National University, donated 150 books to the new community library as Fiji National University's Corporate Social Responsibility. Mr. Pradeep Lal, the Naduna campus's head of campus, expressed the community's approbation of the books.

Training

The women's group of the Lawaki Community Library in Korotari, Labasa was engaged in Library Training. The same women's group was going to take over the responsibility of running the library. The training covered all aspects of the library function, such as:

1. Receiving and accessioning resources
2. Spine labeling
3. Shelving
4. Borrowing and returning books
