KIRIBATI NATIONAL DAY

Kam na bane ni Mauri!

Today, signifies a special moment for the people of Kiribati as the nation and its ancestors who reside in countries across the globe celebrate, Kiribati National Day.

As Vice-Chancellor of the Fiji National University, I congratulate Kiribati and its people for reaching another successful milestone as we celebrate together your country's rich cultural heritage and our strong Pacific friendship that we continue to have with students that we cherish at our university across all our campuses.

This day reminds us of the testament and dedication of all Kiribati people who continue to strive for success in building a prosperous future for all.

Happy Kiribati National Day!

Professor Unaisi Nabobo Baba
Vice-Chancellor
