Despite the long travel, Nasesevia Secondary School student Akuila Ulaiburua was eager to explore the full range of programmes available at Fiji National University (FNU) during the Open Day at Natabua Campus, Lautoka today.

The Year 12 student from the highlands of Nawaicoba, Navosa said the visit to Lautoka provided him with an opportunity to obtain important information about study opportunities at the university.

“I had the perfect opportunity to liaise with the academic staff, current students and explore the college booths, especially information from the College of Business, Hospitality & Tourism Studies (CBHTS),” he said.

The aspiring accountant said the FNU Open Day also enabled him to interact with academics and get first-hand information on various course and programmes.

“This visit allowed me to get relevant career information which I never knew I could opt for. The FNU Open Day has opened my eyes to the various career options out there,” he said.

“My message to other students is to visit the FNU Open Day and get all career-related information under one roof,” the school head boy said. Vilimoni Drogalili, teacher, Nasesevia Secondary School said his students were excited to attend the Open Day as this is the new school.

“These are our pioneering students who will be completing year 13 next year, and this is the right time for them to decide their career options,” he said.

“Talking to the lecturers here is a wonderful experience, and they are so humble and patient while explaining to us when we ask them several questions. It has been amazing talking them as it gives an idea of what kind of lecturers we can expect to be taught by in future,” Drogalili added.
